Remarkable Appeal. Again:

N the movement for Christian union there are ebbs and flows. So far as Australia is concerned, there appeared to be some years ago a greater desire for union on the part of church leaders than at present exists. To many the union of Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational church seemed to be imminent. Then came the Presbyterian withdrawal, consequent upon the determined opposition of some leading ministers and church officials, and with that withdrawal the elaborate plans were abandoned. But there are some subjects which cannot be relegated to obscurity, and the question of Christian union is one. It can never be settled till it is settled rightly.

The official abandonment of the proposals for the union of the churches mentioned evidently does not mean that the members of these churches will consent to the indefinite postponement of the answer to their Lord's prayer for unity. A recent issue of the Melbourne "Age" contained the following remarkable appeal:

That in the opinion of the undersigned the destability of forming a Protestant church union is one of the most important and far-reaching questions of our time. The conviction on this questions of our time. matter was immensely intensified during the Great War, but there are many signs at the present time that, instead of this conviction being carried into effect, another settling down into apathy and indifference is taking place.

"That as this matter has so far been confined to the churches, and that in to the official leaders of the churches, and that in the opinion of a great many church members and adherents the discussions on this question from time to time have revealed official ambition, especially the have revealed official ambition, specially in so far as the matter seems to be official standpoint, and not from the point of people has grown into a stumbling block, rearth, and destroying the soul-saving power of the point of people has grown into a stumbling block, rearth, and destroying the soul-saving power of earth, and destroying the soul-saving power of the Rospel of Jesus Christ among men—that these impressions impressions seem to convey to the mind of the world that the continuous and government of world that the constitution and government of the Christian church is below the standard of the character of the constitution and government of the christian church is below the standard of the character of the constitution and government of the character of the constitution of the character of the constitution of the character ordinary common sense, to say nothing of the suided, and that such impressions tend to affect the influence of the church's officials in their capacity as preachers of the gospel, and that much of the drift from the churches at the present time undoubtedly can be traced to this lack of confidence.

"That, in the opinion of the undersigned, the question of church union should receive full open door, that is to say, should not be confined to the official alone, but that full freedom should be granted to all persons to express their opinions, both for and against, that God may freely use those who in his wisdom he may deem suitable. God may choose some of 'the foolish things of the world that he might put to shame them that are wise.

"That this petition be published both in 'The Age' and the 'Argus,' for the purpose of asking all those who desire to co-operate in using their influence to this end.

"That a copy of this petition be posted to as many of the leaders of the churches as possible.

"That the undersigned desire to make it clear that behind this petition there remains absolute loyalty to the churches and sweet spirit-that it is the outcome of true aspiration to see the church of the living God, which is the pillar and stay of the truth, making such progress as it merits, and shaped not only into a living spiritual force, but also into a practical, business-like institution in all its material forms, so that the church could not only send forth missionaries to the heathen, but also to invite them to send delegates to witness and inspect the beauty of her own life at home.

"I Shall Not Pass Again This Way."

The bread that giveth strength I want to give; The water pure that bids the thirsty live; I want to help the fainting day by day; I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.

I want to give the oil of joy for tears, The faith to conquer cruel doubts and fears, Beauty for ashes may I give alway; I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.

I want to give good measure running o'er, And into angry hearts I want to pour The answer soft that turneth wrath away; I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.

I want to give to others hope and faith; I want to do all that the Master saith; I want to live aright from day to day; I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.

-Unknown.

"That, in view of the action taken by the Presbyterian officials on the question of union, in the mind of the undersigned this action, unless reconsidered, means that the Presbyterian branch of the Christian church has failed to take full advantage of her opportunity, being the first leader of the movement (though we realise that this official action should not be regarded as against the body of Presbyterian people). A special appeal is here made to the Presbyterian church to reconsider her stand in favor of the movement during the last twenty odd years, and also to the Methodist, Congregational and Church of England, to take active leadership in the future steps towards Protestant church union.

"The total substance of this petition is, That the undersigned approach the church authorities and all Protestant Christian people, pleading that the question of church union be carried on the same lines as prohibition—full freedom to all voluntary educating of the people, and that the question be submitted to a vote of all congregations at least once every three years, mainly for the purpose of testing progress.

"On behalf of an indefinite number of signa-tures, which could be added—

"S. J. THOMAS, Presbyterian.
"E. S. JENKINS, Presbyterian.
"I. A. LUCAS, Methodist.

"I. A. LOCAS, Methodist.
"J. A. JACK, Congregational.
"F. H. OLDIS, Congregational.

We reprint in full, believing that the petitioners would wish all Christian people to know of their appeal, and also because to churches known simply as Churches of Christ, which make a special plea for the union of God's people on the basis revealed in the New Testament, it is ever a delight and a stimulus to witness the desire of other believers for union.

We sympathise to a considerable extent with the view expressed that "discussions on this question from time to time have revealed official ambition, especially in so far as the matter seems to be continually looked at from the official standpoint." Any person who has followed the reports of debates in church assemblies must agree. It is comparatively rare to have the expressed will of our Lord regarded as a final statement of the desirability and practicability of union. Matters of church property, questions of church funds, considerations of ministerial status and standards of education—these are constantly being put forward as reasons against organic unity. They cannot weigh with any who put first the will of Christ and who are assured, as our appellants truly say, that "this visible" disunion among Christian people has grown into a stumbling-block, retarding the progress of the kingdom of God on earth, and destroying the soul-saving power of the gospel of Christ among men."

We cordially approve of the appeal being made to the rank and file of the church membership rather than to the ministers and officials alone. The Roman Catholic church exhibits the evil of officialdom at its worst—"the church" and "the clergy" at times are used as synonymous terms. Protestantism has retained part of its evil legacy. It is probably true that the "laymen" of the churches which recently considered the practicability of union would, if left to themselves, have given an overwhelming vote in favor. We rejoice to see a declaration that the rights of the ordinary Christian folk should be regarded.

The appeal we republish refers to "church We much prefer an appeal for Christian union. Every amalgamation of kindred religious bodies may be regarded as a step in the right direction, but there could be church federation, association, and even union, which come far short of the unity of disciples for which our Lord prayed. The earnest believers in all the churches need not wait until there is by vote of their churches—whether the vote be taken in church assemblies or in the local congregations-a definite decision in favor of union. It is the prerogative of every believer to be simply Christian—to put aside his sectarian or denominational position, and declare that he is content to be a follower of the Lord and a member of the church of Christ without denominational affiliation. In Australia in churches wearing alone the divine name there are thirty thousand believers who have already taken this position.

While we are pleased to note the earnest desire of the petitioners for union, we should have been more pleased had they not only referred explicitly to our Lord's will and prayer for union, but also to the fact that he who thus prayed did not leave us without some guide as to the basis of union. In a return to the faith and order of the apostolic church we may find the union we desire. If we put the Lord's ordinances in their rightful place, if we refuse to accept confessions and creeds of human compilation but return to the primitive confession of Jesus as the Christ and the Son of the Living God as the prerequisite to baptism and church membership, we shall find the path to union made easy. We would recommend to the gentlemen whose appeal evokes our sympathy and approval a fresh consideration of the "seven unities of the Spirit" of Ephesians 4, and their bearing upon Christian union: "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as also ye were called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in all."

The Gospel of Liberty.

Acts 15: 1=35.

A. W. Connor.

"We believe that it is by the grace of the Lord Jesus that we, as well as they, shall be saved."—Verse II.

Dr. Maclaren gives to his study on this chapter of Acts the title of "The Charter of Gentile Liberty." This is more truly descriptive than "The First Church Council," as it is so often called, and certainly not so apt to mislead. In truth it was no "church council" in the sense usually put upon that term, nor yet was it an "apostolic council." Only two churches, those at Antioch and Jerusalem, were represented at it, and but a few of the apostles took part. It was a conference on a matter of great importance, and one not only vital to the Gentile churches, but vital to the gospel itself as a world-wide power. The conference settled the matter at issue, and laid down principles which settled the relation of the church of Christ to the Law of Moses. Much was at stake, and Luke turns aside from the record of conflicts with forces without to consider this danger within. Because of the light it throws on early church history, and on present-day questions of church practice, we will consider it in a few aspects.

I. The controversy.

While Paul and Barnabas were exercising an ever-growing ministry among the Gentiles at Antioch, certain men came down from Judea and taught the brethren, "Unless you get circumcised after the manner of Moses you cannot be saved." From chapter II: 18 we learn that the propriety of baptising Gentiles had been fully agreed to by the leaders among the Jewish Christians, and it seems strange to find the question raised again. These men either ignored this decision, or, while agreeing that Gentiles could be baptised and enter the church, argued that afterwards they must "keep the Law of Moses"-circumcision included—in order to be finally saved. The phrase, "After the manner of Moses," and the decision finally come to, as well as re-ferences to this conflict in Paul's epistles, would indicate that the Judaisers held that all the baptised, both Jew and Gentile, were under obligation to keep the Law of Moses.

The issue was serious. Paul and Barnabas had taught otherwise, and if their opponents triumphed Christianity as a was more than observing a single act. Was the burden of all the feast and fast, all the washing and sprinkling, all the distinctions of clean and unclean, all the sabbaths and holy days and new moons to be rivetted on the neck of Gentile Christians? Was Christian freedom to be strangled in its cradle and Christianity made a glorified Judaism?

No wonder there was much disputing, and in the controversy there was danger from all sides. A wise decision was made. Paul and Barnabas and certain others were appointed to go up to Jerusalem and confer with the "apostles and brethren" over the matter. There is no evidence that Paul for a moment doubted that he was right. That there could be no salvation outside of Mosaism was something he could never agree to. But he went up "by revelation." as he tells us in Galatians 2: 2, which seems to mean by a divine intimation that this was God's way of leading the church as a whole into the larger truth. We must study Galatians 2, which, in spite of certain difficulties, seems to refer to this very visit. Both on the way up and at Jerusalem Paul's company gave the churches joy by telling them that "the Gentiles were turning to God." But those of the same party who had made trouble at Antioch rose up declaring that Paul's preaching was defective, and that "Gentiles ought to be circumcised and told to keep the Law of Moses." This was the very antithesis of Paul's word that "Christ had obliterated the handwriting that was against us," nailing it to his cross, as a thing of no more authority. So the apostles and elders met to investigate this question, to face the facts, and give a decision.

II. The conference.

There was evidently much general discussion among the members which (verses 4 and 22) comprised the church, as well as apostles and elders. From Gal. 2: I-IO we learn that a meeting had been held with Peter, James and John prior to this, so that the leaders had come to a decision which was endorsed by the larger gathering. To this gathering the facts in the case and the right deductions were stated.

Ist.—Peter rehearsed a well-known story (7-11) of how by divine choice he had been the first preacher to the Gentiles. Divine attestation had been given in the gift of the Holy Spirit. God made not "the slight est distinction" between us and them; he had "cleansed their hearts by faith." "Why then," he cried, "put a yoke on their necks?" The Law of Moses, a yoke! No! Salvation is by the grace of the Lord Jesus apart from ritualism vels" done by God through them were vels done of God's pleasure in their positive proof of God's pleasure in their positive. These were the facts in the case. work. them what deductions ought to be drawn? This was done by James.

3rd.—James (not an apostle but a leader of the church in Jerusalem), who himself observed much of Jewish ritual, recalled certain prophecies, one of which, in Amos 9: II, 12, he quoted, and showed that non-Jews were to seek after and find the Lord. So he claimed that Peter's teaching that "God was securing a people for himself" from the Gentiles was in agreement with the prophet's words. God's prophecies and God's facts both proclaimed "God's purpose and the comprehensiveness of Christ's church." Why then put on them "yokes"? Why throw difficulties and annoyances in the way? The Judaisers were plainly in the wrong. Yet liberty of Gentiles must be matched by love, and so that no bar may arise between the two sections of the church through social dietic barriers the Gentiles must abstain from things strangled and from blood. It was no time to be paltering with circumcision and Jewish rites; they are not necessary. Neither was it a time for Gentiles to refuse to have respect for the feelings of their Jewish brethren in matters of indifference. Christian charity and wisdom will consent to limitations of liberty so that unity may be preserved. Social cleavage would ultimately lead to religious cleavage, and this was to be avoided. It was a happy ending. It did not end the struggle, but it put the Judaisers in their right place as "false brethren," and "enemies of the cross of Christ." With them Paul waged warfare to the last, to preserve the "liberty with which Christ." which Christ has made us free."

III. The conclusion.

The injunctions to abstain from what had been polluted by idolatry, and from fornication, were called for by the special circumstances in which Gentiles had been trained, and in which they had to live. The abstinence from "things strangled and from blood" may be viewed as a concession to the Jews, or as a recognition of a law older than the Law of Moses. These conclusions were embodied in a fraternal letter, the earliest document from apostolic sources which we have. Notice these

(a) The beautiful greeting, "To the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch" etc. Could anything be finer?

(b) Those who had caused the trouble Were unauthorised, and were "subverters of your souls," not helpers of faith.

(c) Barnabas and Saul are termed "be-loved," and honored as men "who have and honored as men "who have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Chair lives for the name of their Lord Jesus Christ." No stint in their

(d) Judas and Silas will be our true spokesmen, not to "subvert," but build you in Christ.

(e) "These necessary things" would be no burden when laid on by words so loving and gentle.

It is certainly a beautiful, brotherly letter. Brotherly affection, rather than the authority of those who would "lord it over God's heritage," is here. The freedom of disciples from the Law of Moses was made clear. The liberty of men in Christ in matters not vital to salvation was declared. The possibility of unity without a dead uniformity was made clear. The supremacy of Christian love is illustrated.

The gospel is for all. We know this, but do we act on it? Are we not in danger of looking on "heathen" and "Asiatics" as these Jews did on the Gentiles? The final lesson is that while we must "stand fast in the liberty with which Christ has made us free," we may also yield on the nonessential for the sake of peace and harmony in the church of God. The study emphasises the three great master-words of Christian conduct: Loyalty when Christ

s clearly revealed his will; Liberty in things that are non-essential; Love over all the bond of perfectness.

Prayer and Power.

G. M. Anderson.

It was while the whole multitude of people were praying without that the angel appeared to Zacharias and told him that he was to be the father of the forerunner of the Messiah.—Luke 1: 10.

It was not during Christ's baptism that heaven was opened, but during the prayer following.—Luke 3: 21.

It was while Christ prayed that the fashion of his countenance was altered and his raiment was white and glistening and the spirits of Moses and Elijah appeared to him.-Luke 9: 29.

It was while Jesus was praying in Gethsemane and not when he was encountering the soldiers that an angel appeared to strengthen him.-Luke 22: 43.

Pentecost was ushered in in a ten-days' prayer meeting-a prayer meeting that refused to close till the power came with signs and wonders and thousands converted in a day.—Acts 1: 14. Acts 2: 1-4.

It was not when the apostles were scourged that the place was shaken, but when they had prayed.-Acts 4: 31.

It was while Peter was on the housetop praying that God appeared to him in a vision-a vision that drove all his narrow sectionalism and sectarianism out and made him to see that the gospel was for every-body without regard to race or color.—

It was while Cornelius prayed that an angel came to tell him about a man who would tell him words whereby he would be saved .- Acts 10: 30.

It was while prayer was being made, without ceasing of the church unto God for Peter, than an angel released him from prison and brought him to them. - Acts

It was while Paul and Silas prayed at midnight, in stocks, in the Philippian prison, that God manifested himself in mighty power and unchained them.—Acts 18: 25.

It was while Paul prayed in the Temple that he fell into a trance and heard the Voice directing him as to his future course.

-Acts 22: 17. It was while Daniel was speaking, in prayer, that the angel Gabriel touched him and said that he had been sent to impart skill and understanding and that, at the very beginning of his supplication, the commandment came forth.—Daniel 9: 20-23.

Nehemiah went from a broken-hearted prayer into the presence of the king, the tear stains yet on his face, and was im-mediately granted his request and sent to heal the wounds that had caused his sorrow. -Neh. 1: 4 and 2: 4.

It was while Elijah kept on praying that a three-year drought was turned into a downpour of rain.—James 5: 17, 18.

Out of hundreds of babes brought to the Temple, all looking alike to the outsider, one was recognised as the Messiah, but by only two people—a man and a woman who were giving their days and their nights to prayer in the Temple.—Luke 1: 25-38.

Prayer evidently gives spiritual insight.

We have no account of Jesus making long prayers, except in private, when he sometimes prayed all night.-Luke 6: 12.

Of course Jesus believed in the reign of law, and apparently regarded prayer as a part of the law that was to reign, as inviolable and inherent as any other law of the universe.

Jesus said, What things soever ye desire, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them .- Mark II: 24.

This makes faith the wire between the power house and me. I am expected to appropriate by taith sufficient power to move my load. Does my load not move? Possibly the appropriating wire is too small.

I ought to be able to say, "Come out, thou devil, and begone," and it would come out. But I do not say it, because—well, because I suppose I don't believe it would come out. My appropriating wire is too small to move the load.

If any to-day are moving such a loadand some appear to be-it is because their appropriating wire is large enough to carry sufficient power from the power house. When they pray they believe they have what they ask, and act accordingly.

Jesus advised praying, not fainting. Do men say they have prayed and lost? Well, did they ever faint and win?-"The Chris-

Dr. Morgan in New York.

Dr. Campbell Morgan has been attracting large congregations at Fifth-avenue Presbyterian church, New York, where he is serving as pulpit supply for three months. On Dr. Morgan's first Sunday as acting-pastor, congregations gathered such as have not been seen in Fifth-avenue church since Dr. Jowett's ministry, and arrangements have had to be made allowing pewholders to enter the church by the parish house door. Dr. Morgan is giving a Bible lecture each Friday evening. At his first afternoon service over 1,100 people were present.

The Bible and the Cross-word Craze.

The cross-word craze, according to the New York "Churchman," is incidentally having the result of inducing some people to consult the clergy more than usual. It tells the story of a clerical friend who, on a railway journey the other day, was approached by a stranger who, noting his attire, asked him if he were a clergyman. "Yes," was the reply, "can I be of any service to you?" The man did not hesitate for a moment. "Would you tell me where Abraham was born—a name with only two letters in it?" It is a new way of using the clergy, remarks "The Churchman," but it may lead to more than one might think. That paper tells another story of a parishioner who asked his rector what word of five letters was connected with Jonah's career. "Gourd" was the immediate answer. "Gourd?" exclaimed the astonished parishioner. "What had a gourd to do with Jonah?" Then the rector had an excellent opportunity, which he took, to say, "Read your Bible."

Jerusalem has a Hebrew University.

A Hebrew university has been opened in Jerusalem. Thus the old city of memories and miracles is being touched by the life of to-day. But this is really no rash departure from the ancient spirit of Palestine, for it is generally conceded now that the first system of public schools was among the ancient Jews. But to have a modern university shows how the passion for education is sweeping the world. The Jewish Telegraph Agency sent out the following message on Christmas eve:

mas eve:

"The East and West were joined in the presence of representatives of American and west European men of letters, political representatives, and officials of the Palestine Government, when the institute for Jewish students, the first department of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, was opened on Mt. Scopus on Monday, the first day of the festival of lights commemorating the Maccabean victory over the Greeks cabean victory over the Greeks.

"Dr. Yehuda L. Magnes, American Jewish communal leader who is now a resident of Palestine and president of the governing board of the university, in his opening address declared:

and president of the governing board of the university, in his opening address declared:
"We are creating in Palestine a place for study without fear and without prejudice. We depend upon the Jewish spirit to enrich the spiritual life of mankind. The institute for Jewish studies will be a connecting link between the wisdom of the East and the civilisation and culture of the West."

True Religion.

"A Religion of Kindness" is the heading of an editorial in "The Universalist Leader" under which some good things are said. The editor remarks: "There is need for the work of the critics—men who bring us sharply to account—those who scrutinise carefully what seems on the surface fair and fine, those who ruthlessly expose wrong. In the church there is place also for those who sound the alarm. The mighty prophets did that. There is a large place and greater need of those who look for good and hold it up for others to see.

"When we set ourselves free to do this it is amazing how much brotherly kindness we find all around us. This neighbor we hardly know comes around with his car when he finds out by chance some special emergency. All hearts open to us in sorrow. Practically everybody responds to our greeting or smile."

Jewish Converts.

In England we have no periodical statistics of the flow of converts from Judaism to Christianity. In Berlin, however, there is a monthly Jewish magazine which keeps strict account of all who in that one city secede from Judaism. In the first nine months of 1924 a little over three hundred Berlin Jews renounced Judaism, but whether for Christianity or for Agnosticism we are not told. Most of them are prosperous middle-class folk. It is a small set-off against this that in the same space of time 37 Berlin Christians were received into the synagogue. As no fewer than 34 of these 37 were ladies, it may be conjectured that the conversions were more frequently due to matrimonial ambitions than to theological convictions.—"Christian World."

A World-Enemy.

The virtual failure of the recent international The virtual failure of Geneva, has given a sericonference on optum at contract has given a serious blow to British prestige in the eyes of native Christians in the Far East, and English people as it is peo Christians in the Par Last, and English people who desire to understand the problem as it affects India will hear with interest of an informative contributed to the "International Paris" article contributed to the "International Review article contributed to the International Review of Missions" (January) by Mr. W. Paton. He sets out to show that opium, in West and East alike, is an enemy of the human race, and drawn to the fact that India—a British deat. attention to the fact that India—a British dominion—is the greatest exporter of opium in the world, sending abroad 1,000,000 lbs. every year, Mr. Paton demonstrates the futility of the Hague Convention, which allows loopholes so broad that the least-subtle scheme of evasion can pass through, and his plea is for an international agreement that shall aim, honestly, at the cradication of opium-smoking. Apart from its unhappy preeminence as an exporter of opium, India is itself desperately afflicted by the misuse of the drug, for it is estimated that between 75 and 90 per cent. of Indian children under three years of age are "regularly doped with opium." The article of which we make mention was written in advance of the November Conference at Geneva; but the lessons of those gatherings show that, so far, the consideration that carried most weight was one referred to by Mr. Paton, viz., that "the revenues derived from the opium monopoly by the importing States where it is legally smoked, are enormous, and form a large proportion of the financial resources of the State"!—"Christian."

New Church Building for Essendon, Vic.

A very happy and successful function took place on Saturday, April 18, at Essendon, when the foundation-stone of the new church building was laid by Bro. R. Lyall, Conference President, in the presence of a splendid gathering, including a number of representative brethren. F. J. Sivyer briefly outlined the ten years' history of the cause at Essendon, and congratulatory speeches were made by the following brethren:—J. E. Shipway, J. E. Thomas, R. Lyall, R. Enniss, J. I. Mudford, J. McG. Abercrombie, W. Beckett ers led in prayer for God's blessing on the future to Bro. Lyall on behalf of the architect. The building now being erected is to be of brick throughout, and will include two front porches, vestibule and vestries. The total dimensions are 76 ft. x 36 ft. It will have a sloping floor of red Baltic. The roof trusses will be of heavy oregon timbers of the hammer-beam type, carrying heavy moulded purlins supporting the roof-rafters. The underside of these rafters be lined with narrow v-jointed boards from the plate level to the apex of the roof. Wunderlicht patent ridging will be used, and extra good inlet ventilation provided. Specially moulded bricks will be used instead of the usual plaster-moulds to window-openings, etc. The contractor is J. R. Wilkinson, and the architect V. G. Cook, both of Essendon.

H. C. Stitt said: "The solution of the liquor on the is the duty of the church. The man defies street regards it so. The trade itself church. The drink bill of N.S.W. is growing in an appalling manner. Last year it increased by £295,000, and totalled £11,349,000, an average per head of £5/2/8. Crime also was showing a startling upward relative tendency. During the last four years the convictions were: 87,075; 94,565; 96,981; and 104,000, the great majority of these cases being those which were allied to and could be laid right at the door of the liquor trade. The convictions for drunkenness were also increasing year after year. These statistics were such that a Royal Commission should be appointed to inquire into the whole causes of crime. Alcohol has broken every law in the calendar. Public opinion the world over has condemned it. How long its sentence of death will be delayed is a matter for the people. The duty of the church is plain. We must fight on."

Points from the Report.—Temperance teaching of the young had been emphasised. Co-operation with other religious bodies in social questions had been possible. It was felt that the time had come when the brotherhood should consider the practical social side of our great plea, and begin to organise for our own benevolences. establishment of an orphanage is contemplated.

Home Missions and Executive.

One hundred and fifty gathered at Enmore on Friday morning, and the number increased until about 600 were present at night.

The executive report congratulated Joseph Stimson, former Conference President and treasurer, and 40 years a member of the Home Mission Committee, on completing 50 years of church membership and married life.

Mention was made of the favorable impression of the work in this State created by students of 'he College of the Bible who had recently labored here and had since returned to Melbourne. An increase in the number of N.S.W. students was urged, in order that in future we may have more College men taking up the work here.

Recognising the importance and need of the loving service being rendered to our brethren by the Preachers' Provident Fund, the executive had arranged for a special offering to be taken at the afternoon service on Easter Sunday. The "Australian Christian" was commended to the churches as a means of maintaining a broad view of our relations and responsibilities. It was stated that a party would motor to Canberra to select a church site. New buildings had been erected at Granville and Bankstown. The publicity committee (C. R. Hall and A. I., Haddon) were thanked and reappointed. There had been

496 additions, the membership now being 3,935, an increase of 272.

The Home Mission Committee recorded its "warm appreciation of the consistent faithfulness, wise counsel and ready service" of W. H. Hall, who for 10 years had performed the arduous duties of treasurer.

Conference highly commended the "Christian Messenger." There was universal appreciation of the unique editorial ability of C. R. Hall. Training classes had been conducted at six centres; their continuance was urged.

The report contained the following paragraph: "Since H. G. Harward is not seeking reappointment as Organising Secretary, the Committee desires to place on record its highest appreciation of his splendid and sacrificial service to the Churches of Christ in New South Wales; to congratulate him upon the attainment of 25 years of active and efficient ministry." Conference unani-mously declined to carry the clause, and recommended the incoming committee to grant Bro. Harward three months' leave on full salary, with a view to retaining his services as Organiser.

P. C. Bennett (Bankstown), E. R. Butler (Epping) and H. Priestly (Lidcombe) had joined the preaching ranks. The fine work of the State evangelists A. Baker and L. E. Clay was a cause for gratitude. At Belmore 92 confessions and thankoffering of the resulted. A second tent a thankoffering of £151 resulted. A second tent procured for volunteer missions had been used at South Kensington by S. J. Southgate. Ten churches had been subsidised during the year.

A survey of the home field was presented. P. J. Pond, of Lismore, spoke of the needs of the Richmond-Tweed. W. J. Want told of Merewether's needs of preaching help and its willingness to co-operate hnancially. W. J. Campbell showed that Wagga was the centre of a great and growing district which peeded a larger built and growing district which needed a larger building and more preaching places. P. C. Bennett told of Bankstown's progress—a new building, a resident preacher, a Baker-Clay mission. L. E. Clay spoke of the "ins and outs" of the church, the courtesy the missioners had received from all; the "ups and downs," those who encourage and those who grouch; the "ways and means," the mountains of prayer and the valleys of sacrifice.
H. E. Edwards, of Cundletown, spoke of the of the needs of the Manning River district.

A. H. Webber delivered a special address on:

"The Church and the Child." Caring for the child was the church's biggest work he said, and was worthy of increased interest and expenditure. Those present should make it their life work, so per cent, of the church's converts were made from the "teen" age, and so were 90 per cent. of the community's criminals. Sports attached to the Bible School were a means to an end. We should implant a deep religious conviction as well. Children are idealists, and yet they see us en-grossed in material ambitions very often. They are eager to work-what do we give them to do?

The retiring Committee recommended as future work:-A special effort in subsidised churches to attain self-support. An aggressive missionary programme in all the churches with special emphasis on personal evangelism. The prayerful, enthusiastic support of our Bren. Baker and Clay, in their State-wide work. That preachers conduct volunteer missions wherever practicable with the second tent. That sympathetic encourage-ment be given to the Young People's Department in their emphasis on "Children's Year." That united committee meetings be continued. churches in adjacent areas be encouraged to hold district conferences for the furtherance of the work. That half-yearly meetings of church offi-cers be arranged. That the financial objective for the year be not less than £2,500 for the home task. That earnest consideration be given to the advisability of conducting regular open-air services.

The Executive was asked to confer with the City Temple officers with a view to reconstructing the building so as to provide central offices for the State work; also to consider the advisability

Don't Quit.

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will, And the road you're trudging seems all uphill, When the funds are low and the debts are high, And you want to smile, but you have to sigh; When care is pressing you down a bit, Rest, if you must, but don't you quit. Life is queer, with its twists and turns, As every one of us sometimes learns, And many a failure turns about
When he might have won had he stuck it out;
Don't give up though the pace seems slow,
You might succeed with another blow.

Success is failure turned inside out, The silver tints of the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit,
It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit.

—Edgar A. Guest.

Bible First.

Some fifty years ago a Christian man sat by his fireside, while his only child, a little boy, was playing on the hearth. The father had just received the morning newspaper and commenced to read the same, when the child, climbing upon the father's bree controlled the search playing the father's knee, snatched the paper playfully away, saying, "Bible first, papa, Bible first." It came like a supernatural voice, and the father could like a supernatural voice, and the father could not forget the lesson thus conveyed. To deepen the impression, sickness entered the home, and the loving lips of the boy were silenced by death. As that father bowed over the lifeless form of his beautiful boy he felt that the child had preached to him a sermon such as he had never before heard. The child's sermon became the man's life-motto. He resolved in business, in pleasure, in work, in worship to let the Scriptures take the lead. He studied the Bible at home, he taught it in the Sunday School, he kept its precepts before him in all the transactions of life. The result was he prospered. Wealth was bestowed upon him by God. He employed it in benefiting his race, and at a ripe old age he passed away to his reward, leaving five churches in Philadelphia erected by his munificence. The in Philadelphia erected by his munificence. The in Philadelphia erected by his munificence. The second engine he constructed was given to the American Sunday School Union, and thus he gave the Union the means for printing the first gave the Union the means for printing the first Christian literature for the young ever printed in America by steam. This gentleman was Matthias W. Baldwin, the well-known American engineer. No one has ever been a loser by taking the Bible first Did ever a nation, a family, or an individual regret adopting and following the inspired Book as a guide? When the Bible had been translated into the language of the Harvey Islands—a group that lie in the Pacific Ocean—and a cargo of copies just printed in England had reached the natives, they were filled with most lively joy, and held a public meeting on the occasion. At this meeting one of them rose and said: "My brethren and sisters, this is my resolution. "My brethren and sisters, this is my resolution. "My brethren and sisters, this is my resolution. The dust shall never cover my new Bible, the moth shall never eat it. It shall be my light and my joy." This was a very good resolution. Read the Bible every day. Don't let the dust rest upon it, and throughout it will be your light and your joy.

Rescuing Rose.

"Oh, mother, there is the funniest girl in our class at school!" cried Peggy, laying her books on the table. "We all laugh at her, and the teacher gets so angry!"

"Laugh at her? What for?" asked mother, looking gravely at Peggy.

"Oh, because she's an Armenian girl and talks so queerly. We just can't help laughing every time she says anything!" answered Peggy.

Mother shook her head sadly. "And my little girl would be so unkind as that! Oh, Peggy, I am ashamed of you! Just suppose you were in Armenia in school, and you had to stand up before a classroom filled with boys and girls who did not speak your language. Do you think you would like it if they all laughed at you whenever you tried to say anything?"

Peggy hung her head. "I never thought about that," she said.

The next morning Peggy walked over to the

The next morning Peggy walked over to the little stranger, whose name was Rose, and smiled at her. For a second there was a frightened look in Rose's eyes, for she thought Peggy had come to tease her. But in a short time the two girls were friends, and Rose understood that Peggy meant to help her.

That day at recess, when Peggy went down into the schoolyard to play, she heard some one sobbing. Looking around, she saw a circle of girls dancing about, laughing loudly. In the centre of the circle stood Rose, crying as though her heart would break. Peggy ran over to the girls and placed her arms about the trembling

"Shame on you!" she exclaimed; "do you think that is the way to treat a stranger? Why don't you help her, instead of making fun of her? Of course, she is different from us, but teasing her is not the way to teach her our manners!"

The girls stared in surprise at Peggy. Then they all held out their hands to Rose. "We're sorry! Peggy is right! We'll all try to help you after this," they cried.

The tears were still on Rose's lashes, but she smiled at them. Suddenly there sprang into her heart a great love for this wonderful new country —this America, where people helped one another. And Rose knew then that she was going to be very happy in her new home!—"Little Folks."

Doctor Potter tells the story of a young man Doctor Potter tells the story of a young man who stood at the bar of a court of justice to be sentenced for forgery. The judge had known him from a child, for his father had been a famous legal light and his work on the Law of Trusts was the most exhaustive work on the subject in existence. "Do you remember your father?" asked the judge sternly, "That father whom you have disgraced?" The prisoner answered: "I remember him perfectly. Repentance.

"Repentance is being so sorry for sin that with God's help you will give it up."—J. W. Chapman.

"Repentance is a change of will caused by sor-row for sin, and leading to a reformation of life."—J. W. McGarvey.

"He who has turned to God and who manifests the fruits of the Spirit, has repented, whether he can give a precise definition or not."—A. R. Main.

"Christ's parable of the prodigal son is the most beautiful picture of true repentance ever painted.

"The times of ignorance (therefore) God overlooked; but now he commandeth men that they should all everywhere repent: inasmuch as he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by the man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead."-Acts 17: 30, 31.

"The prime requisite to repentance is a sense of sin.'

"Godly sorrow worketh repentance unto salvation, a repentance which bringeth no regret; but the sorrow of the world worketh death."—2 Corinthians 7: 10.

"Once I went forth to look for Repentance. I sought her day and night in the city of Mansoul. I asked many if they knew where she dwelt, and they said they had never seen her. grave and scholarly, who told me what she was like, and bade me seek her earnestly; but he did not tell me where she was to be found. Then, all sad at heart, and wearied with my search, I went forth without the city walls, and climbed a lonely hill, and up a steep and rugged way, until I came in sight of the cross, and of him who hung thereon. And, lo! as I looked upon him, there came one and touched me. Then instantly my heart was paled and all the great deeps of were came one and touched me. Then instantly my heart was melted, and all the great deeps of my soul were broken up. 'Ah, Repentance! I have been looking everywhere for you,' I said. Thou wilt always find me here,' said Repentance; here, in sight of my crucified Lord. I tarry ever at his feet,'"—Mark Guy Pearse.

"The Lord is a well-as a look of the promise."

The Lord is not slack concerning his promise (the Promise of his coming), as some count slackness; but is longsuffering to you-ward, not wishing that ing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance."—2 Peter 3: 9.

Repent ye therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, that so there may come seasons of blotted out, that so there may come seasons of refreshing from the presence of the Lord; and that he may send the Christ who hath to, 20.

Repentance manifests itself in confession of sin and prayer for forgiveness (Psalm 51: 3, 1-10), and in a new life of love, obedience and service (Acts 2: 27-47) service (Acts 2: 37-47).

TOPIC FOR MAY 20.—A SAVIOUR FROM SELFISHNESS.—Luke 16: 19-31.

Our Young People.

Conducted by Leslie C. McCallum, M.A.

Interchurch Service Club.

The above club has been in existence since 1922. It has as its aim the developing of leadership and the stimulating of work among the young. Membership is open to all young men and women who are engaged in or desire to train for Christian service.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, May I, and fortnightly thereafter at the Y.W.C.A. rooms, Russell-st., Melbourne.

Intending members should communicate with the secretary, Miss A. Curnow, 47 Evansdale-rd., Hawthorn, Vic.

Grains of Sand.

The Queensland Bible School and Y.P. Union has issued a novel collecting card for the scholars, to aid in the annual appeal. Its appeal this year is on the basis of "Building for the Church of To-morrow." The card says: "Sand is required for mortar for buildings. So, in building the character of our young people avery small the character of our young people, every small gift towards the activity of the Union is a great help. One penny may be only a grain. Many grains make a big heap." A heap of 60 grains is printed on the card, and for each penny collected a pinprick is put in a grain.

Annual Examination.

Those preparing for this event are reminded that the whole of the lessons in the April-June quarter will be set for examination purposes. In previous years it has been customary to exclude the Easter, Temperance and Missionary lessons; but this year they are included, and must be prepared for examination.

K.S.P. and P.B.P.

On Monday, April 20, the annual sports meeting of the Victorian K.S.P. and P.B.P. clubs was held at Northcote Cricket Ground. The attendance was greater than on any previous occasion, and the entries received constituted a record. Shortly after ten thirty, the Grand Chaplain for Australia, Mr. A. E. Illingworth, declared the meeting opened, and expressed the hope that a day of good fellowship and keen competition in the field would be enjoyed. Event after event was contested in the best possible spirit. It was fine to con the post with which both many fine to see the zest with which both men and maidens entered into the spirit of the games. This is the more commendable when it is remembered that those contending contend only for the honor of their individual clubs and not for any prize. Once more the Malvern-Caulfield clubs proved to be the winners for the day, while Essendon came second. With one exception the whole proceedings passed off without a hitch, and the committee of management, though often much maligned men, are to be congratulated on the way in which the meeting was conducted.

Keeping Sweet.

There was once a fresh-water spring close be-side the sea. Twice every twenty-four hours the tides rolled over it, burying it deep under their brackish floods. But when the bitter waters rolled out again the spring was found fresh as before, with no taint of the salt sea in its sweet

One of the great problems of living is to keep the heart gentle and sweet amid all the world's trying experiences. Nothing worse could happen to any one than that he should become cold to-ward human suffering, or bitter toward human infirmity and failure. When the tides of unkindinfirmity and failure. When the tides of unkind-ness, injustice or cruelty have swept over our life, it should emerge unembittered, patient, long-suffering, meek, rich still in its generous thought and feeling, and ready for any new service for which there may be opportunity to-morrow.—

The Confession of a Confucianist.

From Viscount Shibusawa, Japan's multimillionaire philanthropist, comes a very significant remark in this connection.

"I am a Confucianist. There are a lot of things about Christianity which you preach that I do not understand. A lot of things you do look like foolishness to me. But there are two things in your programme that are an outstanding appeal to me. One is your Bible. One was given to me years ago, and I have read some of it nearly every day since. It is the greatest book ever written. I wish there was a copy in every home in Japan. The other thing is the Sunday School, where young and old gather together to study this book. I wish every person in Japan had the opportunity to attend a Sunday School. It would be the greatest thing for business integrity and morality that could possibly happen."

"No study is more important to the child than the study of the Bible and of the truth which it teaches, and there is no more effective agency for such study than the Sunday School."-Woodrow Wilson.

Young Converts at Geelong, Vic.

Our picture is of a group of young people who belong to the Geelong church where Bro. Stuart Stevens labors. Every Sunday morning a special class is held by the preacher for the teaching and training of young people who have lately united with the church. Keen interest is displayed, and with the chirch. Rech interest is applied, and the average attendance ranges around twenty-five. On Saturday, March 14, the class held its annual picnic at Ocean Grove. The young folk travelled in cars kindly lent by five members of the Cealong church. A delightful outing enthe Geelong church. A delightful outing ensued, and at tea-time an opportunity was taken stied, and at tea-time an opportunity was taken to present to Mr. Stevens a wallet suitably inscribed as a token of love and gratitude from the members of the class. It is expected that during the present year many more will join this class and so be taught the Word of God more thoroughly.

History of Adelaide Chinese Mission.

Feeling the need for religious instruction among the Chinese resident in Adelaide, Bro. Fred Verco, in June, 1899, commenced classes at his home in Grote-st., on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Early in the year 1900 Bro. Verco removed to Sydney. At his suggestion the class removed to the Grote-st. church vestry. The first meeting there was held on March 13, 1900. There were four scholars present (Wing Kong, May Yew, Ah Ching and Ah Kew). The teachers present were Messrs. H. D. Smith (superintendent). A. A. Verco (secretary), W. Jackson, R. S. Putland, Misses Giffin, Major and L. Downs.

The objects of the mission as drawn up in the constitution were: (1) "The education of the Chinese in the rudiments of the English language," and (2) chiefly "The salvation of never-dying souls, through faith in and obedience to the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." The late Bro.

E. McPhee, Supt. Adelaide Chinese Mission.

A. T. Magarey, who was interested in the in-auguration of the mission, rendered the financial assistance necessary to equip the class.

At the commencement there were 9 scholars and 16 teachers on the roll. This number continued to meet regularly, and in September 1906 the late Bro. Jame, then Chinese evangelist of Australia, was invited to come to Adelaide to conduct a mission on Sunday evenings as well as at class meetings. This mission resulted in 7 confessions. The gospel services were continued, and have been held regularly, with the exception of a short period, every Sunday evening.

Bro. H. D. Smith held the office of superintendent until June, 1900, when Bro. W. Jackson took office. He occupied the position until the end of 1905, when Bro. E. McPhee was appointed superintendent. At the end of 1906 he resigned the superintendency of the classes to undertake the supervision of the Sunday afternoon meetings (which were commenced), and Sunday evening services. Bro. E. A. Riches then became superintendent, followed by Mr. A. Downs until 1922, When Bro. McPhee was again appointed to that which he still holds. The following have acted as secretary during the 25 years' existence of the mission:—Bren. A. A. Verco, Leslie Matthews, A. Downs, E. A. Riches, H. Bowden, E. Bowden, and the present secretary is Sister H. Bowden.

Since the inauguration 55 Chinese have by confession and baptism joined the church, and 3 were received by letter from sister churches. At class.

were received by letter from sister churches. At the present time 15 Chinese members attend the gospel meetings each Sunday evening, and an average of 9 scholars and 9 teachers attend the Tuesday and Thursday class meetings. Three members have been called to their heavenly home. Several have returned to their own country, and have not since returned to Adelaide; 9 have transferred to sister churches.

To celebrate the silver jubilee a social gathering was held in the Grote-st. church lecture hall on Tuesday, March 31, when Bro. McPhee pre-sided over a crowded and representative gather-Mr. Andrew Ginn, on behalf of the Chinese. extended a welcome to all present. He said they were pleased to know that so many people were interested in their mission, as was evidenced by the large attendance. The chairman spoke of the work of the mission during its 25 years' existence. He expressed pleasure at seeing so existence. The expressed pleasure at seeing so many past teachers and workers present. Some of them, he said, had been present at the inaugural meeting. Geo. T. Walden congratulated the workers on the results attained through their efforts, and wished them further success in the future. W. Beiler (President of the State F.M. future. W. Beiler (President of the State Com.) brought greetings and congratulations from his Committee, and spoke encouragingly to those engaged in the work. A long and interest-ing programme was submitted, and supper brought a very successful function to a close.

≈ Here and There. ≈

We are indebted to Bro. A. L. Haddon, B.A., for our report of the N.S.W. Conference.

The annual offering for Bible School work will be taken throughout Australia on Sunday next,

W. A. Kemp, formerly of Melbourne, now of Edmburgh, has qualified for his medical degree in the University of Edinburgh.

With pleasure we learn that Bro. C. C. S. Rush is now improving after his motor accident. He is home again and we trust to hear of a full recovery.

We learn that Bro. L. C. McCallum, M.A., our newly-appointed Bible Schools Organiser for Victoria, has qualified for the B.D. degree in the Melbourne College of Divinity.

The N.S.W. "Christian Messenger" of April 15 says that "a committee went to the Federal Capital to-day to select a site for a church building in the Federal Territory."

Mr. W. H. P. Anderson, General Secretary, Mission to Lepers, is now on a visit to Australia. Next Lord's day he will preach at the evening service of the Malvern-Caulfield Church of Christ, Victoria.

The work at Ballarat East, Vic., has received much help from the visits of Bro. A. W. Ladbrook, one of the students of the College of the Bible. On Sunday next Bro. R. G. Cameron commences work with this church.

At the request of the Victorian Baptist Union Bro. R. Enniss on Tuesday evening gave an address on "Sunday School Lessons: Their Preparation and Publication." Our Baptist friends are facing the problem of securing suitable lesson material.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrand, two highly esteemed members of Malvern-Caulfield church, Vic., were injured in a motor accident at Aspendale on Monday evening. Our brother and sister are confined to bed, and are reported to be suffering from abrasions and shock.

Bren. Johannsen and Cannon were the speakers at Bundaberg, Q., on Easter Sunday. Good meetings on the 19th, when two men confessed Christ; these were baptised at the devotional service on Tuesday night, when 60 were present, and another man came out to confess Christ.

Attention is drawn to the advertisement inserted on behalf of the Victorian Department of Social Service. A most urgent case is that of a man, woman and five children with furniture playment is sought for the husband, who is not very strong.

Boort, Vic., had fine attendances on Sunday. The Bible School is practising anniversary hymns. The mission at Pyramid Hill has had good attendances for the first week, many of the Boort Bro. A. T. Lacy has improved much, and great hopes are entertained of his recovery.

A Hinrichsen-Pratt mission at Ormond, Vic., will commence on May 10. The tent will be creeted on North-rd., close to Ormond station. of Christ is entirely new work, there being no Church ren of the metropolitan circles are asked to attend little help now may result in a big church and H. C. De being established.

H. G. Payne, secretary Queensland Bible Schools and Young People's Union, has sent the I-essons:—"By direction of the recent Conference of the excellent quality of the Austral Graded Lessons. We are satisfied that they have no superior in any denomination in Australia, and are grateful for the time, thought and labor put into their production."

At the recent Tasmanian Conference 1,265 church members were reported, a nett increase for the year of 32. There were 266 additions by faith and obedience, and 74 by letter; 19 baptised believers were added, and there were 12 restorations. 123 isolated members were reported. In the Bible Schools are 124 teachers and 861 scholars, as compared with 119 teachers and 785 scholars for 1924. 56 scholars were added to the church during the year.

The mission at Hawthorn, Vic. (missioner, Mr. P. R. Baker), opened on Sunday, April 19, in Burwood-rd., opposite post office. The fine tent, seating about 500, was filled to overflowing, and on Sunday evening last there was again a full attendance. Three young men made the good confession, making seven persons to confess their faith during the first week. Sister churches have kindly helped with visitations on week-nights, Balwyn sending a delegation of 80 on Friday night.

The Victorian Home Mission Organiser recently received word from a brother and sister who have decided that as long as God spares their lives they will put away for Home and Foreign Mission work 1/- per week. The letter suggests that if every brother and sister in our churches could make the same special effort, wonderful help would come to our Home and Foreign Mission work. This is an excellent suggestion, and it is hoped that many others will see how a small weekly sacrifice makes possible a large gift each year.

In the Executive and Home Missionary report presented to the recent Tasmanian Conference, it is stated that at Ulverstone "Bren. Chas. Hale and A. R. Main rendered good service for several months." To prevent misunderstanding, we beg to state that A. R. Main still abides by his College work and has not accepted any engagement with church or committee. During College vacation he spent a few weeks of restful holiday at Ulverstone, and the extent of his "labors" with the church was the delivering, quite gratuitously, of a few Sunday morning and evening addresses.

The little township of Pyramid, Vic., is being stirred by the Hinrichsen-Pratt mission. Boort brethren are very loyal and enthusiastic. Every night car-loads arrive to assist the mission. Though an accident prevented them from getting home before 2 a.m. one night, they came again the next, the distance of 25 miles. The local folk are becoming interested, and are doing much talking. On Sunday night two married men and a young woman confessed Christ. For the size of the place the attendances are remarkable. As we were going to press, the following telegram came to hand from E. C. Hinrichsen:—"Wonderful meeting, Monday night; nine confessions."

Hindmarsh, S.A., on April 19 (men's day) meetings were good. Bro. A. Moyse exhorted acceptably in the morning meeting. In the afternoon E. J. Paternoster addressed the men on "What Constitutes a Man?" At night men formed the choir, and also rendered solos, and gave readings. Bro. G. Swanbury conducted the meeting. E. J. Paternoster gave the address. Very fine meetings on April 26. Morning, E. J. Paternoster addressed the church on "The Church and Her Life." Evening, Bro. C. Caldicott preached to a good congregation; he also addressed the ladies' Bjble Class in the afternoon. The 70th anniversary is planned for June. Bro. H. Onley, who is in hospital with pneumonia is beginning to recover. Sister May Tompkin, after nine months' sickness, is also recovering.

On Sunday, April 19, there were splendid meetings and four confessions at Balwyn, Vic., while on the 26th 183 broke bread, there were 9 baptisms and one confession, Jas. E. Thomas preaching.

At Footscray, Vic., five young men and a young woman have been added to the church by faith and baptism. Last Lord's day Sister Mrs. Waters, from Mildura, was welcomed into fellowship. The Bible School is preparing for anniversary celebrations, Bro. W. Cousins conducting the singing. Last Saturday evening the ladies' society held a birthday social in aid of the manse building fund. Each member was given a small bag in which to place a penny for each year of age. Nearly £16 was received. Bro. and Sister Hurren are taking a brief holiday during the next two weeks.

The work at Barmera, S.A., has been handicapped because of the unsuitable place of meeting. The Bible School has decreased in numbers because of many removals from the district. The J.C.E. keeps up in attendance. Gospel services remain about the same. On April 5 the Cobdogla S.S. anniversary was a great success. Attendances, Sunday School, 60; evening, 50. On Monday night, April 6, the prizes were distributed. On Easter Monday the two Bible Schools combined in their annual picnic, and an enjoyable time was spent. Barmera chapel is nearing completion, and it is hoped it will be re-opened on May 3.

At Mile End, S.A., last Wednesday three brothers were immersed; on Sunday morning they received the hand of welcome. At night the building was packed, and six came forward at the close—two men, three ladies, and a girl. The walls of the new building are nearly finished, and all are looking forward to completion of the building. One of the sisters in a suburban church is struggling and saving to buy a home, and has offered all her savings as a loan at bank rate of interest that she might have a part in the work. B. W. Manning, 2 Danby-st., Torrensville, would be glad to hear from any others who can help.

At Coburg, Vic., on April 22, a farewell social was tendered to Bro. J. C. F. Pittman after his 4½ years' ministry. Bro. W. J. Kenley presided. A first-class musical programme was rendered. Addresses in appreciation of the services of Bro. Pittman and regret at his departure were given by the chairman and Bren. F. B. Withers (trustees), E. J. Handley (school), and W. Fairweather (church). Presentations were made by Bro. W. J. Parker to Bro. Pittman for himself and Sister Pittman. The work for April has been good. Three additions to the church—one by letter, and two young ladies from the school by faith and baptism. All are grateful to Bro. Gale for his recent visit. Bro. L. Smith now takes up the work of preaching.

At Surrey Hills, Vic., on Apr. 19, Bro. Gray, of Box Hill, gave a helpful exhortation on "Prayer." Two who had been baptised the previous Thursday were received into fellowship. On April day were received into fellowship. On April 22 the church appointed committees for the forth-coming mission. The male choir, under Bro. G. Murray, is holding a weekly practice. Bro. Mudford exhorted acceptably on April 26. A young man was welcomed into the church. The K.S.P. club has enjoyed lectures given by Mr. C. Lang and Prof. Smyth. Eighty men listened to the latter speak on "Sex Education." The ladies' guild has commenced the year enthusiastically. Last year over £150 was raised. Among the gifts made to the church was a splendid piano. The mothers of the Bible School scholars are being entertained on Thursday by the members of the guild. At a sale of gifts organised by the Birthday Mission League of Joy over £50 was raised. The co-operation of sister churches was appreciated. The C.E. Society continues to do good service for Christ and the church. A physical culture class has been organised among the senior girls of the Bible School; satisfactory progress is being made.

N. S. W. Sisters' Conference.

The 31st annual conference of sisters of N.S.W. was held at Enmore Tabernacle on Tuesday, Apr. 7, 1925. There was a large attendance, and the day was a very happy one. The morning session was opened by hymn and prayer. Mrs. Fox led the devotional, and several sisters offered prayers. Scripture read from Luke 2. Miss Edna Bagley sang a very beautiful solo, "Gethsemane." Mrs. Fox took for her talk "The Humble Christ."

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Clydesdale, who gave a hearty welcome to those present. Minutes of last year's conference were read and confirmed. Corres-pondence read included apologies from sisters Mrs. Vercoe and Rush, regretting inability to be present, and wishing sisters a good time; from Mr. Carter, Erskineville. Greetings were received from Wagga, Foreign Mission Board (G. T. Walden), Queensland Sisters, Western Australia, Tasmania, and Victoria; President of General Conference, Bro. T. Rofe, who gave verbally the resolution of thanks passed to sisters by the Committee for splendid help rendered at Federal Conference; Granville and Erskineville.

of opening a special fund to be used in purchasing land in promising districts and in other extension work. W. Doige, late of Cootamundra, in discussing this motion, offered a block of land in that town to be used as desired.

Home Mission Rally.

Eloquent addresses were delivered in the even-ing by A. Baker and H. G. Harward. The for-mer spoke of the inspiration of the events of mer spoke of the inspiration of the events of Pentecost and following days, of the success of our own movement: the hope of the future expressed in the promise of the abiding presence of the Master. These should lead us to grasp the opportunities of the present.

H. G. Harward said: Our task is to interpret an ideal—a matchless ideal—the inspiration of the movement with which we are to-day identified—the restoration of the church as established by its Divine Founder. Our task is to make that church of 1900 years ago. To show to men that divine love saw the need, and divine wisdom made adequate provision for its spiritual requirements. We have also to imitate an example and invest in an enterprise. "Pounds for pleasure, pennies for an enterprise. Founds for pleasure, pennies for preaching, seems to be the motto of many." God so loved that he gave. We must throw back in feeble imitation that infinite giving.

The offering amounted to £800 in cash and pro-

Conference Sermon.

The Conference Sermon was delivered on San day afternoon to a large gathering. L. E. Clay led the singing. Miss E. Bagley rendered a solo.

G. Fretwell, of Auburn, spoke on the theme "Ite Christ we Preach." It was an unusually fire message. We hope to print a summary later.

2. In sympathy with W. Waterman in his illness. 3. In favor of prohibition without compensation; and of co-operation with any organisations having for their object the enforcement of the existing liquor laws.

Draughts in the Desert.

Conference discussions are not all dreariness. Frequent glitters dispel the gloom. Even the uninterested could not complain of monotony. The recent Sydney gatherings were no exception. The speakers revealed more wit than there is room to record.

P. J. Pond (Lismore) took three days to get to Conference. The boat tossed on high seas while the passengers waited at Byron Bay. "I doubt if they'd have waited for us," said the pilotic "that they had to said to the butter." We doubt if they'd have waited for us," said the pil-grim, "but they had to pick up the butter." W. Want (Merewether), who did some pioneering around Singleton in other days, told the folk he visited that after riding 30 miles on a brumby he didn't want a chair. Evidently the State evangelists are popular.

"Kill them in the work if you like," said W. J. Campbell, "but don't let them go away." One of them described himself as "a peripatetic cosmopolitan who goes about in a tent," but admitted "Bro. Baker carries more weight than I." The audience glanced and agreed. "Cheer us up if you can," L. E. Clay went on, "pull us up if you like; make us sit up if you want to"; but we must all "stiffen our backbones, set our jawbones, forget our wish-bones," and get on with the

The newspaper men were (as usual) in prominence. "The press will report you," said J. G. Lockley ("Redgum" of the "Sun") you give news and not views." W. Doige, late editor of the "Cootamundra Liberal," said he did not intend to speak him was to offer a gift of a not intend to speak but rose to offer a gift of a not intend to speak but rose to offer a gift of a site for a church. Conference favored an encore. H. E. Edwards ("Hawkeye" of the "Maming River Times"), who had previously told us that a speaker so held an audience "that you could hear the paint sticking to the walls," was afraid that we Christians sometimes "talk commercial butter and act skim milk." It was an utterance worthy of this genial Christian boundary rider from the country of the cow cockies. from the country of the cow cockies.

'We older men are hopeless," declared A. H. We older men are hopeless," declared A. Webber, in speaking of the opportunities of youth. "I agree with the man who longed to find a church who were allowed. find a church where the young men were allowed to make mistakes. to make mistakes—if they can't make mistakes, they'll make nothing."

Concerning prohibition, it was seriously suggested that the church should favor compensa-tion—for the victims of the liquor trade. damnable traffic could have been removed years ago, it was stated, "and would have been only for the parsone"

"All the people down our way are wealth," said one delegate, "but they're well that's why they are wealthy."

OBITUARY.

BLACKWELL.—Heartfelt sympathy is ex-tended to the Blackwell family in the loss of a tended to the Diackwell laimly in the loss of a dear wife and mother, who passed from this life on March 29, at the age of 58 years. Sister Blackwell was the beloved wife of Bro. F. Black-large of the stalwart pioneers of our church Blackwell and of the stalwart pioneers of our churches well, one of the stalwart pioneers of our churches well, one of the stalwart pioneers of our churches well, one of the stalwart pioneers of our churches in Queensland, and mother of Mrs. Peterson, of Tannymorel; Mrs. E. Rosenberg, of Ma Ma Creek; Mrs. W. E. Reeve, of Annerley, and Hedley Blackwell. Her life was eventful. As a civilian she was honored, admired and loved. Her life had also become interwoven in the church in which she worshipped God. Her membership covered a period of 42 years, she having been hantised in the Condamine river on March 17. covered a period of 42 years, she having been haptised in the Condamine river on March 17, 1883, by Bro. F. W. Troy. She was associated with the Warwick church during the ministries of Bren. D. A. Ewers and H. Tillcock, the latter of Bren. D. A. Ewers and H. IIIICOCK, the latter preacher uniting her in marriage to Bro. Blackwell. During later years our sister was connected with the Killarney, Toowoomba, Brisbane and Tannymorel churches, her closing years being spent with Zillmere church. She has left a great Christian reputation. Her life was continuously directed Godwards. Her faith was of the truest kind, and manifested itself in the fullest the truest kind, and manifested itself in the fullest submission to God. We pray that God may grant to the sorrowing ones the consolation and guidance they need.—E. P. Aderman.

guidance they need.—E. P. Aderman.

SCOULLER.—An old and esteemed member of the City Temple church, in the person of James Scouller, was called home on Saturday, April 18, at the age of 70 years. Bro. Scouller was commended by the brethren at Shawlands, Glasgow, Scotland, and his association with the Sydney church dates back to 1883. His faithfulness and devotion to the church never ceased, and, although his failing health prevented active interest in the work, his heart was in it, and its interest in the work, his heart was in it, and its prosperity was his delight. His last long sickness, extending over a period of five years, increased his love for Christ, and strengthened his faith in the promises of God. His body was laid to rest in the Woronora Cemetery on April 20, in the give and contains to to rest in the Woronora Cemetery on April 20, in the sure and certain hope of a resurrection to eternal joy. To those who are left we tender our Christian love, and rejoice with them in the knowledge that the parting is only "till the day dawns, and the shadows flee away."—S.J.S., Sydney, N.S.W.

SMITH.—Dandenong church recently suffered the loss of one of its members who has been a great help to the work, in the person of the late Bro. Robert Alexander Smith. Our brother passed peacefully and restfully away at the age of 68 years, on March 1, 1925, after a protracted illness. The assistance of Bro. Smith will be missed by the church with which he was associated, because for account he has been active. cated, because for 20 years he has been active in the work of the Master, filling the office of superintendent of the Master, filling the office of superintendent of the S.S. for many years, and being frequently on the board of officers of the church church. It was at the first tent mission conducted at Dandenong in 1904 that Bro. Smith was converted. Bro. Harward was the evangelist. was converted. Bro. Harward was the end of Relist. Bro. Smith, who was an employee of the Vistagian Political was known to his friends keist. Bro. Smith, who was an employee of the Victorian Railways, was known to his friends as "Ganger Smith," and to many of his intimates testimony to the saving power of the gospel. He was never ashamed to tall of the battles he fought was never ashamed to tell of the battles he fought ere he decided to follow Christ; and all who knew him tell how consistently, among many dif-culties, he remained true to his profession. Bro. snew him tell how consistently, among many dif-ficulties, he remained true to his profession. Bro. Smith is deeply and widely mourned in his home district. Friends at Maryborough, where he him too. But all tell of his unfailing faith and constant Christian hope. The sympathy of the A. Hughes.

HAVE YOU CATARRH?

ASK YOURSELF THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS:-

Is my voice husky? Do I sneeze frequently? Do I catch cold easily? Is my nose stopped up? Is my hearing affected? Does my throat feel dry? Do I feel tired on rising? Does the nose discharge? Do I suffer from headache? Do crusts form in my nose? Do I expectorate frequently? Is my sense of smell affected? Is there fullness in the throat? Does phlegm drop into the throat? Do I suffer from noise in the head? Do I suffer from shortness of breath?

Write out each question that affects you, and send the same to me with 40/-, and I will send the necessary treatment for one month's supply, with full directions and instructions.
