Christian Missions need your prayers and gifts more than ever before

Today we are besieged by an endless succession of charities asking for our money.

Which ones do we support? Are they relevant or effective today? Worthwhile?

How much of the money raised actually reaches the people they set out to help?

The Guide includes over 60 Christian missions and charities in NSW who responded to our request for their free listing. They are listed alphabetically to simplify your search.

Some have taken space to show you more about their specific features. We have listed the appropriate page number where you will see their advertisement.

In communicating their need to you through this publication, they invite your prayers and financial support.

Please offer both. You will be greatly blessed in doing so.

Tom Glynn

PS: Please be sure to use the front panel on this Guide to direct it to the attention of other appropriate people. Thank you.

FACT

TODAY

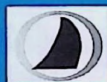

- fewer students join Christian groups at Uni
- less students even consider Christianity as offering viable answers to life's big questions

That's why the Navigators tailor our ministry among students to connect with those who typically write off the church's message and style.

Ministry that is contextualised to postmodernity, while adhering passionately to the Bible, is a must if today's youth are to become tomorrow's church leaders.

We don't just need your money. Our commitment is to help you use what God has given you to play a part in the future. By GOD's grace, you won't be disappointed. Please call.

COMPASSION

The Compassion Difference

In responding to Jesus call to go and make disciples of all nations, teaching them to obey Him, Compassion Australia's Child Sponsorship aims to release children and their families from spiritual, economic, social and physical poverty. We also enable them to become responsible and fulfilled Christians. Some of Compassion's unique differences are;

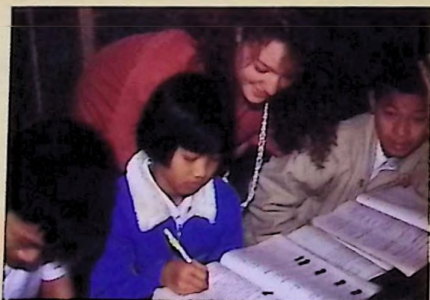

1. One to One Sponsorship

Every child is an individual and created in God's image. We uniquely link every sponsor to an individual child in as long term and personal a relationship as possible. We work hard to provide opportunities for sponsors to;

- * pray for their children,
- * encourage their children through letters and cards and
- * visit during the sponsors' overseas travel.

2. Compassion is Christian

Every staff member, in every country, is a committed Christian. They care for children from a Biblical perspective out of a deep, spiritual commitment to minister in Jesus' name. You too can minister deeply into the life of a child by your love, prayers and encouragement.

We encourage sponsor visits.

3. Compassion works through the local church

Every Compassion project is a partnership with a local church. We become therefore, a powerful lever to assist the ministry of the church lift its families out of the hopelessness and helplessness of poverty. The local church committee, together with the national Compassion staff, plans a program that fulfils the needs of the children, the church and the vision the Pastor has for his community.

As a non denominational mission, we only partner with local churches who share our passion and vision for ministry to the children in their community. We also train and equip project workers in effective child development and good financial management.

4. Compassion believes in discipleship

Every child in the Compassion sponsorship program has an opportunity to hear the Gospel. Nothing impacts the child, the family, the church and community like the saving grace of our Lord and an ongoing commitment to discipleship. We have many hundreds of stories of children who by God's grace have impacted their communities with positive changes for good. We aim to give every child an opportunity to reach their God-given potential.

5. Compassion believes in integrity and accountability

Every project is audited regularly to ensure all sponsorship and other donations are being fully utilised effectively in reaching their goals. Compassion guarantees that 75% or more of funds are used for program activities to benefit the children and their families. Last year, ministry activities exceeded 77% of our organization's total expenses. Compassion is committed to being cost effective and we work hard to earn and maintain the trust of our sponsors.

6. Compassion as an advocate

We speak out and support the rights of children, especially those in poverty who are often powerless in a hostile and exploitative world. We personally and corporately challenge, encourage and equip the body of Christ to protect children against abuse and neglect. Our extensive church ministries also encourage Christians to provide safe and nurturing environments where children can develop their God-given potential.

TODAY'S GREATEST MISSION OPPORTUNITY

Today the search for spirituality is widespread. Many are dabbling with New Age and Buddhist pathways. Through astrology, meditation, mind powers, reincarnation, sacred sex to tarot cards, more and more people are searching for meaning as they strive for personal and societal transformation. Sadly, this ferment is by-passing the Church. It's time for a new age of Christian Missions.

New Age festivals are proving to be the most popular meeting points, and where possible the Community of Hope stall is present to share today's seekers about the Gospel.

New Age Mission is a ministry committed to reaching today's post-modern seeker and equipping Christians to share their faith in the postmodern world. Our mission is not only to new agers, but also embraces reaching out to people of other faiths, new religions, and the unchurched.

A BIBLICAL PRINCIPLE FOR EFFECTIVENESS

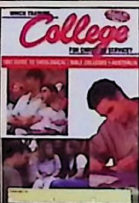

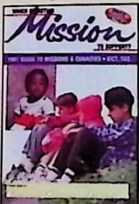

First Vision, then Provision

Today, the need for Vision is greater than ever before. Individuals, churches, their organisations, companies, governments - no matter who we are, we all need a Vision for the future.

For over 25 years, Tom Glynn & Associates has helped companies and Christian organisations see their Visions through to reality.

We begin with the simple questions, like 'Where are we now?', 'Why are we there?' And many more, until the Vision is clear. 'Where do we want to be?'

The process of getting there begins with clear analysis of the task to be achieved - which in turn is only possible after the homework is done and the strategy is right.

Tom Glynn & Associates publishes guides to build up the church

It may take considerable reflection.

Legwork. Research. A fresh look at all the options. Ruthless refining until everything irrelevant is pared away. Until you arrive at a Vision statement that is worthy.

And that's when our creative team is ready to start, not before. Armed with the clarity of your Vision, they will provide you with the advertisements, commercials, videos, leaflets, direct marketing package or whatever it takes to get your Vision across most effectively.

In addition to that, we'll make sure your message communicates your spiritual, corporate or brand values in the most meaningful way.

Having implemented the Vision, it is time for Provision to follow, often miraculously - through increased awareness, unexpected media coverage and support, increased attendances, donations, sales - whatever the response your Vision demands.

Are such results an occasion for surprise? We don't think so.

It is more appropriately a time for humbleness, to reflect on the power of God and His ability to bless us with greater abundance than we often dare pray for.

Because there's still so much to do.

PROBLEM: Giving Wesley Central Mission a distinctive image.

SOLUTION: Delete 'Central', design a new logo, TV spot.

RESULT: Soaring awareness and income

You can give them hope for the future.

Wesley Mission is reaching out to innocent child victims like Joshua.

Joshua is two weeks old. He lies in the arms of experienced Wesley Mission foster care parents John and Pam, who will care for him until his addicted mother has successfully gone through rehabilitation.

John and Pam are Wesley Dalmar Child and Family Care volunteers. All the sleep they lose, plus the pain of giving back a baby whom they love, they willingly give. Even after eleven years and fifty foster children.

One of Australia's largest and most cost effective caring organisations, Wesley Mission provides care and compassion to people in need throughout the community.

Thousands of people in need – of every age, from every walk of life, depend on Wesley Mission every day.

Wesley Mission's caring services include:

Wesley Dalmar Child and Family Care provides emergency accommodation, "extra hands" volunteers who provide at home support for families in crisis, foster care, innovative "Open Day" family counselling to help families as soon as troubles begin, and more.

Lifeline Sydney the world-renowned telephone counselling service, is staffed by volunteers. They answer distress calls. They listen carefully to the problem. They let the caller know they've heard what they're saying – that they understand. They help the caller find hope, not despair.

Mangrove Mountain Retreat is a brand new Wesley Mission venture, which provides a wonderful rural adventure for children with disabilities and other disadvantaged children. The camps also offers respite for the children's family, who otherwise give 24 hour, seven day a week intense care for their child.

Wesley Mission also provides:

- Aged Care Hostels
- Disability services
- Hospitals
